No Desire to Run Against Fulbright

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—He had said several times before that he had no plans or desires to run against Sen. J. William Fulbright in next year's Democratic Primary, but when he said it again Wednesday, former Gov. Sid McMath had an addendum.

"I am not saying I would not under any circumstances make the race," he told state AFL-CIO President J. Bill Becker of Little Rock.

McMath, a major general in the Marine Corps Reserve, has attacked Fulbright's position on the Vietnam War in an increasing number of speeches around the state.

He talked about it again as he and Becker participated in the taping of "Labor's Language," a television program shown at 10 a.m. Sundays on KARK-TV (Channel 4).

Becker, the moderator, asked him about Fulbright's suggestion that the war be turned over to the United Nations.

"I certainly would like to see the United Nations take over this tragic, unhappy war. That is one of the functions of the UN," McMath said.

But as for Fulbright's suggestion that the United States encourage the UN to act by promising to comply with any Security Council or General Assembly recommendation for ending the war, he said:

"I would be reluctant to do that. I would be reluctant to submit our destiny in the West Pacific to a decision by Kosygin of Russia, De Gaulle of France and Wilson of England."

He said he also would take issue with Fulbright's willingness to give the Viet Cong representation in the South Vietnamese government under a negotiated settlement—key positions, at any rate.

He said experience in Eastern Europe and in China had shown that in coalition governments, the Communists eventually take over everything.

McMath said he would agree to stop U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, but only if the North Vietnamese agreed to stop their invasion of the South.

He said he would oppose an invasion of North Vietnam or involving Red China in the war, but that within a limited concept, "we should do what's necessary to prevent the Communists taking over South Vietnam."

Obituaries

CARMEL, Calif. (AP)—Marlin Flavin, 84, Pulitzer Prize-winning novelist and playwright, died Wednesday of complications from a fall last month. Flavin won the Harper Prize, as well as the Pulitzer, in 1943 for his novel, "Journey in the Dark."

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Max Miller, 68, author of "Cover the Waterfront," died Wednesday after he collapsed at his home. Miller wrote the best seller from his experience as ship news reporter for the old San Diego Sun. He also wrote 27 other books.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Charles K. Moffly, 61, a retired U.S. consul general, died Monday. His last post was in Cameroon, Africa, as deputy chief of mission and charge d'affaires. He also had served as consul and director of the U.S. Information Agency in several countries.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Frazier Hunt, author and war correspondent for the Chicago Tribune and Reader's Digest, died Sunday. He was 82. He was a correspondent for the Tribune during World War I. During World War II he covered Gen. Douglas MacArthur for the Digest.

Will Question Prisoner About Slaying

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—Ashley County Sheriff B. A. Courson said he plans to go to Cummins Prison Farm today to talk to a prisoner who contends that he has new information about a 1963 slaying at Hamburg.

Courson said he received a letter, which he said might be "a hoax," that said the two men convicted of the slaying were innocent.

A letter postmarked at Morrilton and signed by a Johnny Doyle Higgins Jr. said that M.C. Talley, 26, of Monroe La., and Curtis Smith, 32, of Brevard, N.C., were innocent in the slaying of Tommy Rodgers, 20.

Rodgers, a sophomore at Arkansas A&M college, was stabbed and robbed while operating his parents' service station at Hamburg.

Talley pleaded guilty to the slaying in 1965 and was sentenced to life in prison. Smith was found guilty of first-degree murder and was sentenced to life.

Courson said Wednesday he had received a letter written Dec. 22 from a J. Doyle Higgins at Cummins saying he did not write the previous letter but said he would like to talk with the sheriff about the case anyway.

Cummins authorities said a J. Doyle Higgins was serving six years for three burglary charges in Drew County.

Completion of Locks Seen

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Completion work on spillways at locks and dams Nos. 8 and 9 will block Arkansas River traffic near Conway and near Morrilton by March 15, the Army Engineers announced Wednesday. Both locks and dams are about three-fourths finished. No. 8 is scheduled for completion in October 1968, and No. 9 in August 1969.

Greek Regime Baset by Conflict

By PHILIP DOPGULOS Associated Press Writer
ATHENS (AP)—The Revolutionary Council behind Greece's regime is reported baset by an internal conflict between moderates and extremists.

The moderates, headed by Premier George Papadopoulos, favor a softer line against opponents of the army group that seized power April 21, informed sources said.

The extremists, according to the sources, want repressive measures continued; a continuation of press censorship and persons they consider hard-core leftists to remain in jail.

This situation was underlined by the regime's about-face on the Christmas amnesty announced Saturday by Papadopoulos.

The premier said that all political prisoners arrested after the April coup would be set free.

About 2,600 such prisoners are being kept on the Aegean Islands of Leros and Yioira, and Papadopoulos said they would be among those freed. But 24 hours later the military dictatorship's chief security officer, Col. John Ladas, said those on the islands were "hard-core Communists" who were not included in the amnesty and only about 300 persons would be set free.

So far the premier has said nothing about this reversal of his announcement.

Ladas is considered one of the leaders of the Revolutionary Council's extremist faction. Others are said to be Col. Constantine Karydas, secretary-general of the ministry to the premier's office, and Air Vice Marshal Antonios Skarmaliarakis, head of the civil aviation authority.

The moderates are reportedly led by Papadopoulos and the other two leaders of the coup who have been considered a ruling junta—Deputy Premier Stylianos Patakos and Coordination Minister Nicholas Makarezos.

Papadopoulos has shown a conciliatory attitude toward King Constantine, whose attempt to oust the regime failed Dec. 13. But the council is said to be undecided whether to let the king return in the next few days or wait several months.

The hard-liners reportedly want the king to remain in exile for some time to come.

Many council members are rumored to be against the return of Queen Mother Frederika, considering that she exercises undue influence on her son.

Informed sources say Papadopoulos, Patakos and Makarezos are hesitant to clash openly with the extremists for fear of creating disunity.

GOPs Differ on Power of Wallace

WASHINGTON (AP)—The two top-ranking Senate Republicans are at odds over what effect a third-party candidacy by former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace would have on the 1968 presidential race.

Meanwhile Wallace, an apparent victor in his drive to qualify for the California presidential ballot, reportedly has targeted Ohio for a similar campaign.

And former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, indirectly quoted by the New York Times as saying Michigan Gov. George Romney was too indecisive to be President, denied ever making such a statement.

These were Wednesday's political developments:

—In Los Angeles, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., GOP Senate whip, predicted Democrats would lose far more votes than Republicans if Wallace qualifies as a 1968 presidential candidate.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, in Los Angeles to serve as grand marshal of the Tournament of Roses, told newsmen he feels a Wallace candidacy would cut equally into both parties' ranks.

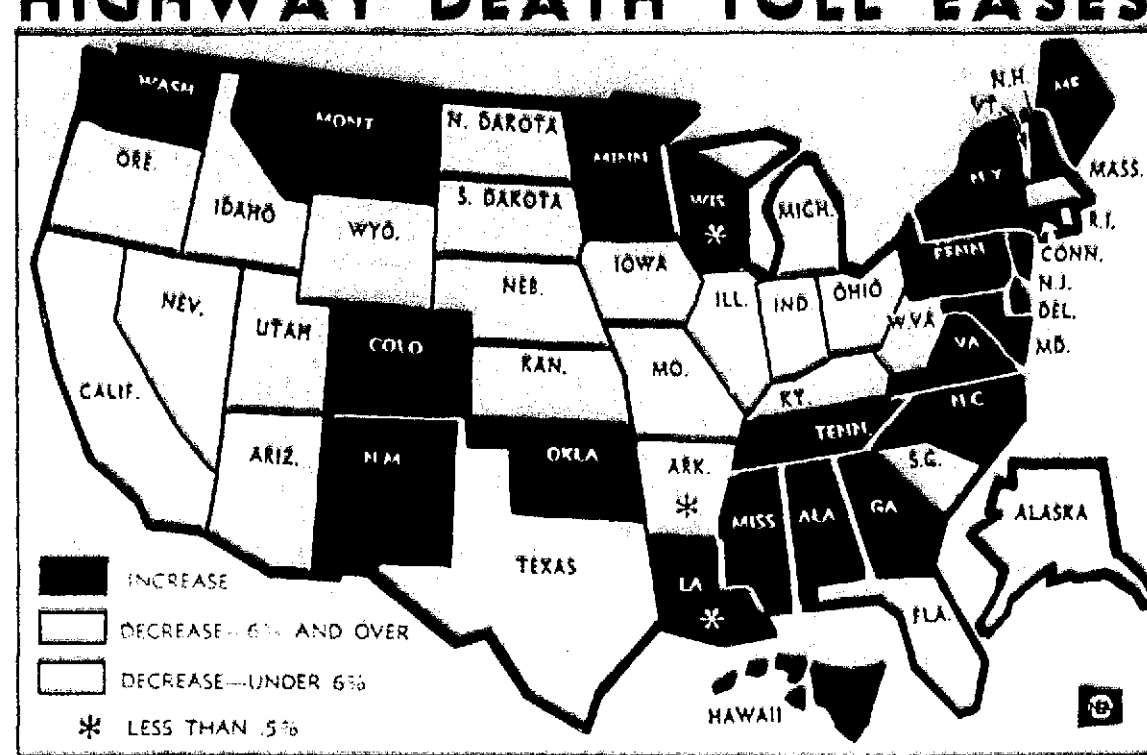

—In Columbus, Ohio, a Wallace spokesman said the Wallace government plans to visit the Buckeye State Jan. 7-10 to plot strategy aimed at qualifying for the presidential ballot there.

Two members of Wallace's campaign staff in Montgomery, Ala., said they knew nothing of such plans, however.

State election officials said earlier this week Wallace apparently has succeeded in getting enough California voters to register with his American Independent party to qualify for the presidential ballot in the nation's most populous state.

—Eisenhower said in his opinion Romney had taken beneficial legal positions on many vital

HIGHWAY DEATH TOLL EASES

Traffic fatalities in the United States for the first nine months of 1967 were down somewhat (about 200 less) as compared with the same period in 1966 although, as map shows, there were increases in some states. National Safety Council estimates indicate 38,130 motor vehicle deaths between Jan.-Sept., 1967.

Woman Gives Prisoners $1 Apiece

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. James W. Kessler, 32, of North Little Rock wrote out a check for $500 Wednesday to see that state Penitentiary inmates get $1 apiece as Christmas gifts.

She made it payable to Thomas O. Murton, state prison superintendent in charge of Tucker Prison Farm, and sent it to KTHV newscaster George Moore for delivery.

Mrs. Kessler, who said Murton could do "whatever he sees fit with it," donated the money after Moore reported on his news program that some Cummins Prison Farm inmates had staged a sit-down strike in the prison cafeteria because the state Penitentiary Board hadn't granted them an annual $1 Christmas allotment.

Contacted later, Mrs. Kessler said she had contributed the money because she was sorry for the way Arkansas prison inmates have been treated.

"The least they can have is $1 for Christmas," she said. "I'm furious about the whole thing."

Mrs. Kessler said she had read news reports of a State Police investigation that revealed instances of extortion and brutality at Tucker before Murton took over.

"I have 10 poodles, and they are treated better than that," she said. "I think Thomas Murton is one of the best things that ever happened to this state, and I'm not a Rockefeller supporter. He's performed a miracle."

Mrs. Kessler said she also hoped that her donation would "make some darn deadheads wake up" about the state prison system.

"I don't have very much money," she said. "I broke my back the second of last March in the Tower Building, which Gov. Rockefeller owns. The money I got out of that wasn't all that much, but I thought the best way I could share it with God was to share it with people."

Mrs. Kessler said she was separated from her husband, whom she identified as a psychologist with the state Rehabilitation Service at the Arkansas

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. WILLIAM THOMAS DILLARD, III

The marriage of Miss Janet McRae Ellis and William Thomas Dillard III was solemnized at 5:30 p. m. December 27 in Hope First Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Owen Ellis of Hope, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Dillard, 22 Edgemoor Road, Little Rock.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by Dr. L. T. Lawrence before a setting of white poinsettias and smilax with a satin-covered prie-dieu. Music was by Luther Hollioman, organist, and Dr. Lowell Harris, soloist. Miss Denise Dillard of Little Rock, sister of the bridegroom, and Rusty Stone of Nashville, Tenn., cousin of the bride, lit the candles.

Mr. Ellis gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of silver and white French brocade in a modified A-line design. The neckline and long sleeves of the dress were banded with looped crystals and pearls. Her chapel-length illusion veil was held by a beaded pillow, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Mrs. Kenneth Padden of Hope served her sister as matron of honor. Her Empire dress of moss green velvet was accented at the raised waistline by a rose of the velvet. A velvet circlet held her short moss green veil, and she carried a lighted white taper from which fell a cascade of English ivy, silvered foliage and white and silver ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Drue Dillard, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Laurie Townsend, Miss Dana Kaye Hill and Miss Kathy Thomas, all of Little Rock, Mrs. Van Cheney of Athens, Ga., and Mrs. Yancy Reynolds of Fayetteville. They were dressed like the honor attendant and carried similarly trimmed tapers.

Mr. Dillard served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Steve Garner of Tulsa, Okla., Tim Goodwin of Houston, Tex., Paul Ray of Fort Worth, Tex., Don Johnson of Fayetteville, Bud Burden of Fort Smith and J. Hearn Latimer of Boston, Mass. Ushers were Alex and Mike Dillard of Little Rock, brothers of the bridegroom, and Fred O.

Ellis of Hope, brother of the bride. All wore boutonnieres of lilies of the valley.

A reception at Hope Country Club followed the wedding. The bride's table was covered with a white organdy cloth and centered with white roses and stock in a silver wine cooler flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers. Edging the table were swags of smilax caught with a miniature replica of the bride's bouquet. Tables holding champagne fountains were decorated with greenery and white grapes.

The cake was served by the bride's aunts, Mrs. Merrill Stone of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. W. A. Evans of Little Rock. Mrs. Frederick Judell and Miss Susan Judell of St. Louis, aunt and cousin of the bride served the punch. The bride's book was kept by Mrs. Kendall Lemley of Fort Knox, Ky., and Mrs. Don Johnson of Fayetteville. Further assisting in dispensing hospitality were Mrs. Lynn Harris, Mrs. Jack Lowe, Mrs. A. L. Page, Mrs. Joe Hawkins, Mrs. Leonard Ellis, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Jack Pickens, Mrs. Lamar Cox, Mrs. Comer Boyell, Mrs. Hamilton Hanagan, Miss Diane Ellis, Miss Mary Alice Caston, Mrs. Bill Butler, Mrs. Sam Stone, Mrs. Robert LaGrone, Miss Peggy Hupp, and Mrs. Douglas Jackson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ellis wore a floor-length dress of French blue crepe with matching accessories. She pinned a pale yellow cymbidium orchid on her purse.

Mrs. Dillard, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in floor-length green lace with a matching hat and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Kendall Lemley, grandmother of the bride, wore a green orchid corsage. The bride's other grandmother, Mrs. Emma Ellis of Little Rock, and the bride's aunts, Mrs. T. J. Dillard of Mineral Springs and Mrs. Jim Latimer of Nashville, wore gardenia corsages.

For travel the bride wore a costume suit of champagne gabardine with dark brown patent leather accessories and a white orchid corsage.

On their return from a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Dillard will be at home in Boston, Mass., where Mr. Dillard attends Harvard University Graduate School of Business.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the top younger comedians by sheer coincidence—and the acute shortage of subjects to get funny about—used the same topic as the basis for a sketch in variety programs Wednesday night.

The comedians were—in order of appearance—Woody Allen in a "Music Hall" revue on NBC and Jonathan Winters in the premiere of his CBS weekly variety show. The subject was miniskirts, worn respectively by Liza Minnelli and Abby Dalton, both playing the wives of the male stars.

Although the treatments of the subjects were quite different, the basic joke in both sketches was identical, and were summed up in a line given to Abby Dalton: "Men want every girl in the world to dress like Jane Fonda, except their wife."

Winters' opening program was a well-paced mixture of sketches and in the first one he successfully pulled out of storage his grand old lady, Maudie Fickett.

Winters has a gimmick in which he is given a single prop and improvises around it. He has done it a number of times before on television and it is always interesting if not always a complete success. His prop Wednesday night was a towel and he did pretty well.

Members of the television audience, most likely, will either adore the Winters' brand of outrageous humor or they will be left cold. He was cushioned considerably on the first show by the presence of dependable Red Skelton and attractive Barbara Eden. The series may work out pretty well as it shakes down and people get a chance to accustom themselves to Winters.

Woody Allen's alleged "Review of 1967" was a bright funny hour that didn't review much of anything but was notable for Allen's debut on television playing assorted characters in sketches. And Allen, the actor, is pretty good and pretty funny whether he was the outraged spouse of the girl in her first miniskirt or a spoiled child movie star having a tantrum.

The plot of the movie star sketch, incidentally, was an aged child star, moping for the Senate, a pretty tired subject. Earlier this week Jimmy Durante wrapped the whole thing up in a single sentence when he was talking to little Anissa Jones on "Hollywood Palace," "I better talk nice to this one," he said, "Who knows? Next year she may be my congress-man."

Allen's hour had one strange interlude when the star sat down with William F. Buckley Jr., a conservative politician and writer, and engaged in a battle of wisecracks. Some of the exchanges suggested there was a prewritten script and some of the "questions from the audience" certainly were planted. Allen, for instance, asked Buckley if he thought Sen. Robert F. Kennedy would ever be president.

"Yes," said Buckley, quick as a flash, "if he can get all the Kennedys to vote for him."

Allen who after all was a comedy writer before he was a performer came off much better in this portion than the amateur—his lines were better and his delivery superb.

False Teeth Create a New Problem

By FRANK MURRAY

Associated Press Writer
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Matthew Comito has a problem with thousands of teeth in it.

Comito has a jug filled with 300 denture plates, most of them flotsam picked up along Miami Beach in past years.

He'd like to return some of them to their owners but in spite of correspondence, telephone calls and one public showing of the dentures, Comito has yet to find a single right mouth.

"It's quite a challenge to find someone," he said.

Comito is an instructor in dental technology at the Lindsey Hopkins Public Adult Education Center. The jug of false teeth is on his desk in the classroom.

"They cost a minimum of $150 each," Comito said, "but they're not worth two cents to anyone else except the owners."

Comito got most of the dentures last summer from life-guards at Miami Beach who had picked them up after they floated ashore over the years.

"Some people go out fishing and do more drinking than fishing," Comito explained. "If they're swimming, they get a mouthful of water and lose the teeth."

Packers Only See Dallas Now

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — A balding Henry Jordan of the Green Bay Packers, who probably has less hair and more moves than any tackle in football, is feeling like Henry Jordan again—he's worried as usual.

"Don't talk to me about the Super Bowl. I don't even think about the Super Bowl," said Jordan Wednesday as he prepared for the Dallas Cowboys and John Niland, the guard he will oppose in Sunday's National Football League championship game.

"That Niland, he's a good one," said the 6-foot-3, 250-pound veteran. It was Jordan's typical way of getting ready. Niland is good. So is Jordan, although a week before he wasn't so sure about that.

Jordan, who will be 33 next month, was beset with self-doubt as he readied for the Western Conference playoff game with the Los Angeles Rams last Saturday. He has worried not only about the Rams and guard Tom Mack, but about Henry Jordan, the off-time all-league selection. "I was losing a little confidence in myself," he said.

For three weeks, Jordan and his mates had not been getting to the enemy passer. The usually stingy Packer defense was giving up an unusual number of points, and the Packers even dropped two straight games.

Some die-hard Packer fans thought that possibly old age had finally caught up to Green Bay. "It wasn't only the fans," Jordan confessed.

Jordan proved he wasn't quite ready for the rocking chair. "Our Fearsome Onesome," was what fellow tackle Ron Kostelnik called Jordan after the 28-7 Packer victory Saturday.

Jordan truly was fearsome. Four times he sped by Mack to spill Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel for losses. Ram runners who tried to come up with yardage through Jordan's position got nowhere.

Henderson Wins Third Meet in Row

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Henderson State College won its third straight Kiwanis Club Invitational Basketball Tournament here Wednesday defeating Arkansas AM&N 107-97 on the shooting of Lou Woods.

Woods ended AM&N's 11-game winning streak by hitting 37 points in the championship game, breaking the tournament record of 36 set last year by teammate Larry Duckworth. Woods' two-game total of 59 points also earned him the title of most valuable player in the tournament.

In a consolation game, Arkansas A&M defeated Hendrix College 94-72.

Both Henderson and AM&N played a fast moving game, but Henderson held a 54-44 half-time lead. Both teams suffered from fouls, and Henderson lost Duckworth with 11:18 left in the game. Duckworth had contributed 15 points.

AM&N's Donald Young, who scored 16 points for the night, was given the sportsmanship award.

Arkansas A&M held a slight margin at the half, 39-35, but found the mark in the second half with 55 points. Hendrix hit for 37 in the final half.

Oilers Get Ready for the Raiders

HOUSTON (AP) — American Football League championship games are nothing new to Bob Talamini but the veteran Houston Oilers offensive guard says preparations for Sunday's encounter at Oakland are providing him with a special thrill.

"This time, we were down so long and everybody said we'd finish last again this year, so it has to be a bigger thrill," said the former Kentucky star.

Talamini was a rookie when Houston won the first AFL championship in 1960. The Oilers won again in 1961 but lost the 1962 championship to the old Dallas Texans in pro football's longest game.

"Those early championship games were exciting but they didn't mean as much as this to the people because nobody knew whether the American League was going to survive or not," he said. "We won the Eastern Division this year when nobody believed we could. Many still find it hard to accept."

Safety Jim Norton and defensive end Don Floyd are the only other Oilers remaining from the original 1960 squad.

Floyd agrees that winning the division title this year supplied the greatest thrill.

"It's hard to explain why," Floyd said. "We had to come so far after a slow start. It just means more to me winning those other titles."

The first three division championships were followed by dismal 6-8, 4-10 and 3-11 seasons.

Playmaker Has Become a Scorer

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who needs Bobby Hull anyway?

Certainly not Phil Esposito, who is passing less and enjoying it more now that he no longer centers Chicago's Golden Jet.

Esposito was the playmaker for Hull's 54 and 52-goal outputs the last two seasons, which shattered National Hockey League records.

Traded to Boston during the summer, Esposito has become a scorer himself. He proved that to his old Black Hawk teammates Wednesday night when he notched his second three-goal hat trick of the year in a 7-2 Boston romp over Chicago.

The loss snapped a 10-game unbeaten string for the Hawks and dropped them back into a first place tie with the surprising Bruins. Elsewhere, New York and Minnesota battled to a 3-3 tie, Montreal tied Toronto 2-2, St. Louis topped Los Angeles 4-2 and Oakland and Pittsburgh played to a scoreless tie.

Esposito's three goals gave him 15 in 32 games with the Bruins compared with 21 last season for Chicago.

Minnesota, scoreless in three straight games, saw the frustrating streak extended to 11 periods before bursting it with a flurry of three third-period goals inside of 3½ minutes against New York. Ray Cullen scored two of the goals and assisted on the third.

That wiped out a 2-0 Ranger edge, but New York managed the tie when Rod Gilbert poked a loose puck past Cesare Maniago with just 72 seconds left to play.

Danny Grant and Jean Beliveau scored with less than four minutes left, giving Montreal its standstill against Toronto. George Armstrong and Pete Stenkowski had snapped a scoreless tie early in the period for the Maple Leafs.

Gary Sabourin fired a pair of goals as St. Louis dropped Los Angeles. The Blues, who outshot the Kings 37-19, were in a 1-1 tie until Sabourin's second goal and singles by Gerry McInly and Don McKenney gave them some breathing room in the third period.

Oakland's Gary Smith and Pittsburgh's Les Binkley played the NHL's first scoreless tie of the season. The shutout was the third this year for Binkley and the first for Smith.

Firing of McGuire Was No Surprise

NEW YORK (AP) — The sudden firing of Dick McGuire came as no surprise to the coach of the slump-ridden New York Knicks.

"I knew it was coming," McGuire said Wednesday after he had been fired as coach and replaced by chief scout Red Holzman. "When a team is losing, changes have to be made."

McGuire, 41, was fired moments after the Knicks dropped a 114-105 decision to Philadelphia. It was their fourth straight loss and ninth in 12 games.

"The team improved under Dick last year," said Knick President Ned Irish, "and we expected it to be even better this season. We have been disappointed."

McGuire took the Knicks into the playoffs last season for the first time since 1959.

They were expected to be greatly improved this year with the addition of high-priced rookies Bill Bradley and Walt Frazier. Instead, they have slipped to a 15-23 mark and fifth place in the six-team Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

"The decision was made Wednesday to make the change," Irish said. "Holzman was the logical man to consider. He has the background and knows the personnel."

Holzman, a former Knick and Detroit star and later a coach for Detroit and St. Louis, said he doesn't plan any drastic changes immediately.

McGuire will take over Holzman's scouting duties at least for the remainder of his one-year contract. No announcement was made on the length of Holzman's coaching contract.

Auburn Is Winner Over Porks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three Southwest Conference teams made their start in tournament play Wednesday night and each lost to make the inter-sectional record 15-38.

Baylor took an 85-75 licking from Alabama in the Mobile Basketball Classic as the Crimson Tide broke open the game in the early minutes of the second half with a 10-point spurge.

Tom Jones with 29 points and Mike Nordholz, with 29, were two too much for Baylor, which was led by David Sibley with 20.

Arkansas tried the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City and was beaten 65-58 by Auburn. The Plainsmen snapped a 37-37 tie, took a 10-point lead midway of the second half and Arkansas could get no closer than six points the rest of the way.

Wallace Tinker hit a basket and two free throws to pull it out of reach with only a minute left. Robert McKenzie of Arkansas was high man of the game with 20 points.

Texas was drubbed 54-42 by Oregon State in its start in the Far West Classic at Portland. The Beavers held a 30-17 half-time lead and went into a semistall. Seven-foot Vic Bartolome led all scorers with 16 points. Gary Overbeck topped Texas with 11.

Baylor, Arkansas and Texas play again in their tournaments although it will be in the consolation bracket.

Meanwhile Southern Methodist will be opening its bid in the Dallas All-Sports Tournament and Texas Christian will be in the Holiday Classic at Storrs, Conn.

Pittsburgh Pipers Get Pipping Hot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Pipers got pipping hot when it counted and thus are within one game of the leading Minnesota Muskies in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association today.

Trailing virtually throughout their game against Kentucky Wednesday night, the Pipers scored 11 straight points in the final 3½ minutes to defeat the Colonels, 100-98.

Minnesota was idle in the only other game, Denver trounced Houston 118-82.

In the National Association, Philadelphia defeated New York 114-105, Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 132-127 and St. Louis downed Boston, 116-113.

Chico Vaughn was high for Pittsburgh with 28 points, followed by Tom Washington with 24 and Art Heyman with 23. Louie Dampier topped the Colonels with 17.

Denver's victory lifted its record to 18-17, good for third place in the Western Division. Houston is fifth with an 11-21 mark. Willie Murrell dished in 28 points to lead the Rockets' attack while Grant Simmons had 20 for Houston.

Not Worried Now About His Shooting

By TOM SALADIN

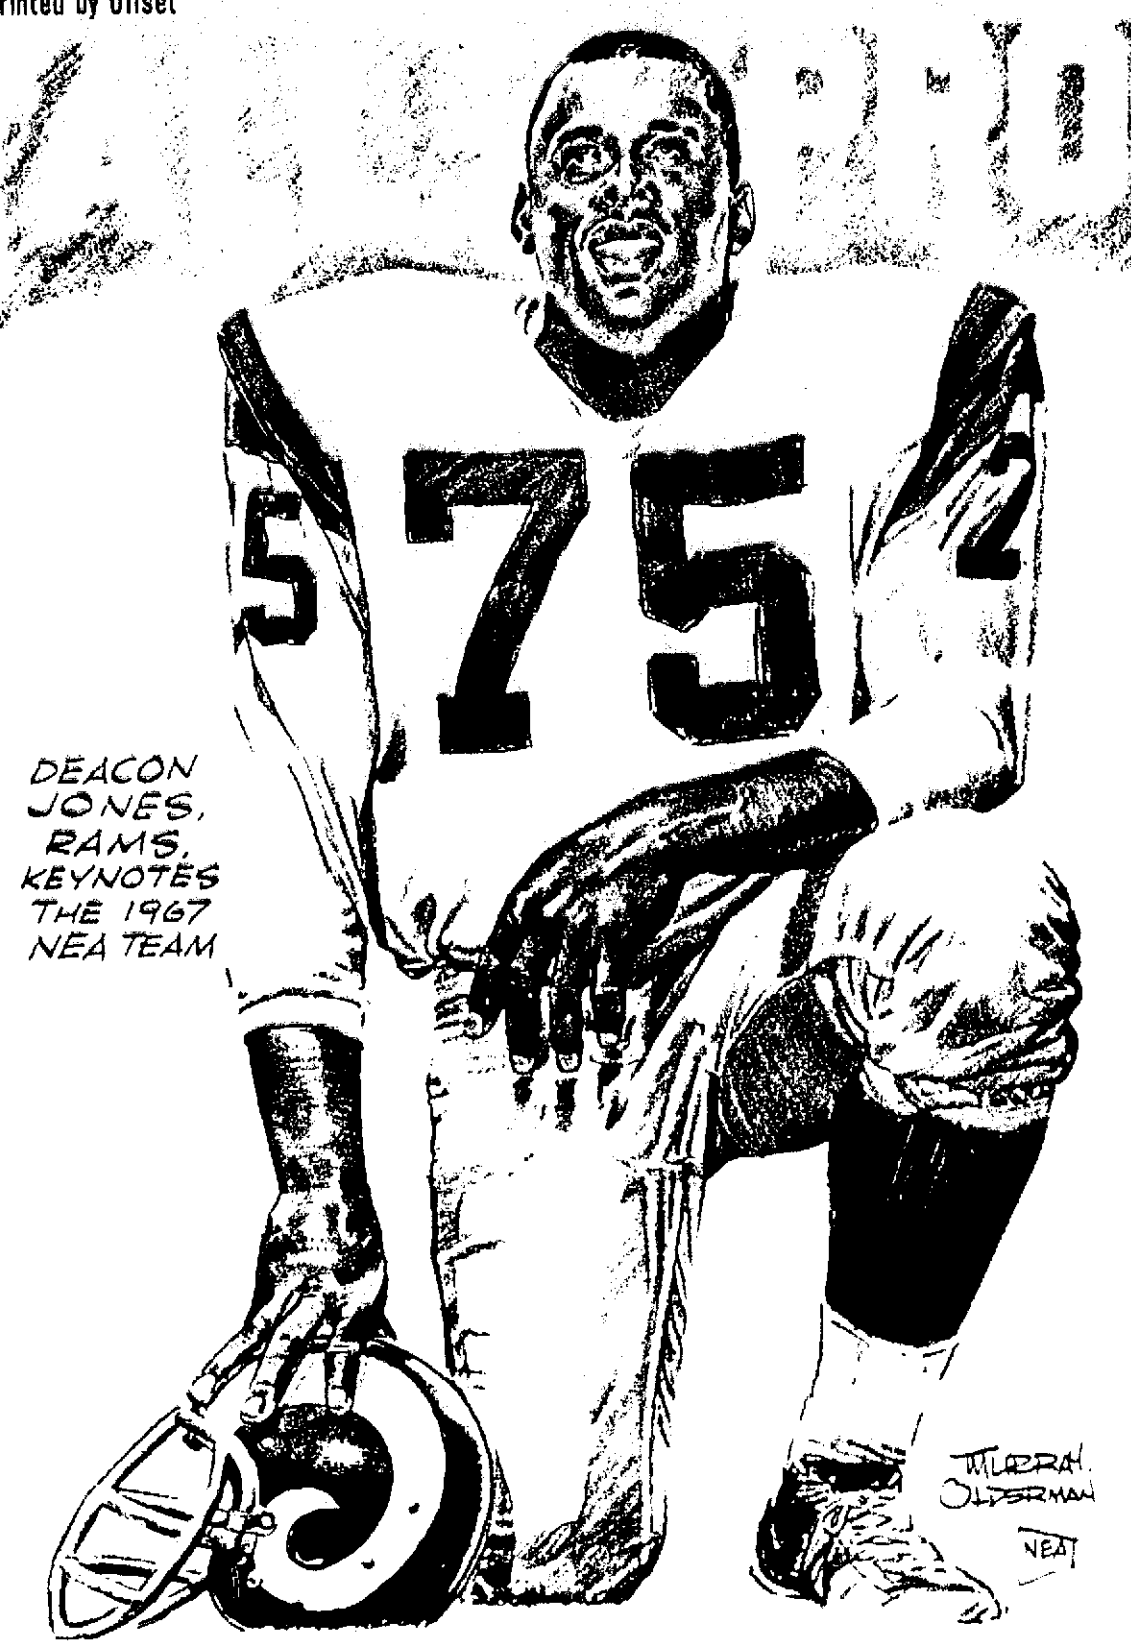

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Wally Jones used to worry about his shooting, but since his coach has taken over the worrying, Wally Wonder has become quite a marksman.

Jones, a peppery, 6-foot-2 guard for the defending National Basketball Association champion Philadelphia 76ers, helped his team trim the New York Knicks' lead, 111-107, Wednesday, scoring 21 points while holding Bill Bradley, New York's headliner, to 13 points.

The victory, plus St. Louis' 116-113 victory over Boston, put the 76ers' chances in front of the Celtics in the Eastern Division standings. Cincinnati snapped Los Angeles' 132-127 in the only other NBA game scheduled.

In the American Basketball Association, Denver crushed Houston 108-82 and Pittsburgh edged Kentucky 100-98.

DEACON JONES, RAMS, KEYNOTES THE 1967 NEA TEAM

NFL '67 ALL-PRO

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — The Baltimore Colts for the offense, the Green Bay Packers and the Los Angeles Rams for the defense—that theme dominates the 1967 All-Players All-Pro team announced today by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

Johnny Unitas, the incomparable quarterback of the Colts, was a virtually unanimous choice for his position. David (Deacon) Jones of the Rams is solidly encoined at one defensive end, with no opposition. And Dave Robinson, the strong side corner linebacker for the Packers, was a runaway selection on the same defensive unit. The Colts placed three men on offense, the Rams and Packers three each on defense.

The two other solid vote-getters on this 22-man squad were the running backs—Gale Sayers of Chicago and Cleveland's Leroy Kelly—who attracted the same unanimity of opinion a year ago.

But not all positions were clear-cut. At tight end an offense John Mackey of the Colts barely nudged out the Smith boys, Jerry of Washington and Jackie of St. Louis. For the flanker spot, Homer Jones of New York won by a neck over Bob Hayes of Dallas in a race between the two fastest men in the league. Ralph Neely, Hayes' teammate, would certainly have mustered more support for a tackle spot if he hadn't been impeded by injuries this year. The center job was no snap for Minnesota's Mick Tingelhoff with Bob DeMarco of St. Louis around.

On defense, there was a tight three-way tussle at middle linebacker, with Dick Butkus of Chicago nosing out Tommy Nobis of Atlanta and Ray Nitschke of Green Bay. One corner post was closely contested between Dave Wilcox of San Francisco, the winner, and Chuck Howley of Dallas, a '66 choice.

The voting, conducted by NEA, came from the finest judges of all—the 640 players on the 16 teams in the NFL. Their selections, narrowed down to the 22 positions on offense and defense, will be graphically presented on a special pregame show prepared by the Columbia Broadcasting Company to precede the telecast of the National Football League championship game on Dec. 31.

These are the men who'll be seen in vivid filmed action.

OFFENSE

John Mackey, Colts, tight end. Combination gazelle and bull, top-notch blocker who's also best deep threat for Unitas bombs.

Charley Taylor, Redskins, split end. No better runner after he catches the ball. Less than two years on the job. Wait if he gets acclimated!

Homer Jones, Giants, flanker. He oughta be outlawed says Cards' Charley Winner. Homer's not much when not catching ball, but who cares?

Bob Vogel, Colts, tackle. Could be smallest offensive tackle in league, but he's steady pass protector and all-pro repeater.

Ernie McMillan, Cards, tackle. Finally getting recognition he probably deserved couple of years ago. Strong at moving, people out.

Gene Hickerson, Browns, guard. First-time messenger man now sends out his own signals as path sweeper for strong Cleveland running

Howard Mudd, 49ers, guard. If there's a surprise in the array, he's it. But not to the players who've had to clumb over him.

Mick Tingelhoff, Vikings, center. Steady plunger whose forte is picking up blitzes. A free agent who made it on his own.

John Unitas, Colts, quarterback. The nonpareil. Success won't spoil him. Added another notch to his all-time target shooting.

Gale Sayers, Bears, running back. They say he had slow start. First slow thing he's been accused of in his life.

Leroy Kelly, Browns, running back. Carbon copy, mini-size of predecessor Jimmy Brown, right down to the hairdo and slick clothes.

DEFENSE

Deacon Jones, Rams, end. The Deacon's become the premier defensive player in football because he can outrun most backs.

Willie Davis, Packers, end. Like Old Man River, he just keeps flowing with the action. Willie's forte is also leadership.

Merlin Olsen, Rams, tackle. Brute strength under a smart head produces intense interior pressure. He blows people down.

Bob Lilly, Cowboys, tackle. Best tribute is that other teams constantly double and triple team him. Great lateral mobility.

Dick Butkus, Bears, middle backer. Bruiser who intimidates quarterbacks and runners alike. Gung ho performer at all times.

Dave Robinson, Packers, corner backer. The ideal combination of size, speed, smartness. And affinity for making the big play.

Dave Wilcox, 49ers, corner backer. Stands out the hard way on team not noted for defense. Another big guy who can move.

Bob Jeter, Packers, corner back. Finally coming out from under the shadow of Adderley. Balled in Canada before Packer got him.

Cornell Green, Cowboys, corner back. Has all scouts searching country for rugged backfield players. Skipped grid in college.

Larry Wilson, Cardinals, safety. Not as spectacular as in '66, but that's because other teams were playing away from him.

Ed Meador, Rams, safety. Maybe not as gifted physically as some, but compensates by always being in right spot. Smart competitor.

The 1967 All-Players All-Pro team will be honored with a special award night co-hosted by CBS and NEA at Television City in Hollywood, Calif., on Jan. 16. They will be presented with individual trophies and certificates to designate their selection. Each man will also receive an engraved Bulova watch and an all-pro plaque, a Panasoni "Midiu" combination portable phonograph and an FM-AM radio, and a Plano tackle box with Arbogast baits to help him in his next job. All of this now that the season is almost over.

Lions' Mel Farr Runs Off with Rookie Honors

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK (NEA)—On a Sunday evening in November Miller Farr called long-distance to his brother Mel. They were following their post-game ritual.

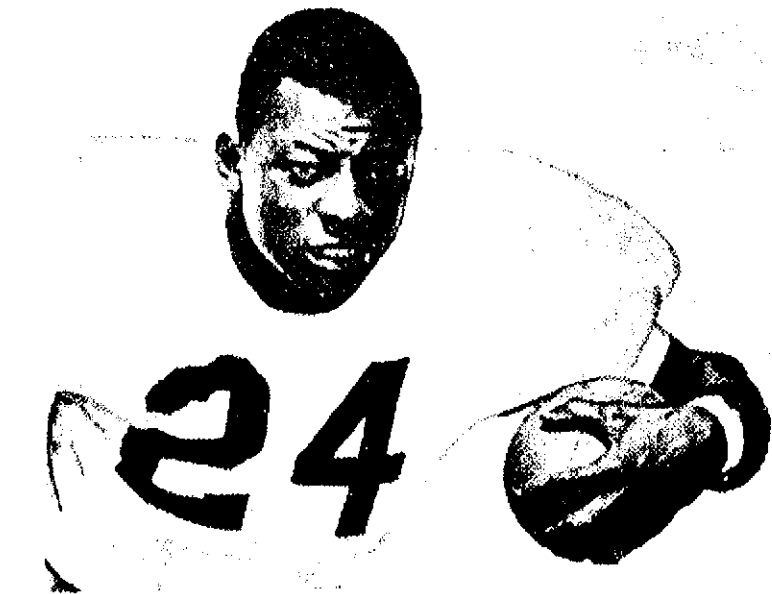

"How'd you do today?" asked Miller, a veteran cornerback for Houston.

"Ran for 197 yards," replied Mel, the Detroit Lions' rookie halfback, about his afternoon against the Vikings.

"I knew you were good," said Miller, "but not that good."

That sums up the consensus on Mel Farr, former All-American from UCLA. No one it seemed, except Mel, thought he would be so sensational in his first year in the National Football League.

For his remarkable performance, including emergence as the leading rusher and pass receiver on the Lions, Mel is the NFL's Rookie of the Year and winner of the Bert Bell Trophy.

MEL FARR

net of the Bert Bell Trophy.

He was chosen in a poll of the NFL coaches conducted by Newsday, Enterprise Association.

When Mel reported to training camp after playing in the College All-Star game in Chicago, a reporter asked what goals he had set for the season.

"I want to rush for a thousand yards. I want to be Rookie of the Year and I want to and hobbled. He might have reached his 1,000-yard goal if he had stayed healthy.

"I knew my ambitions were big," said Mel. "My brother told me that not even Gale Sayers or Jim Brown gained a thousand yards in their first year."

But I got close. That's something too, isn't it?"

The question is rhetorical.

He Got That Snake Christmas

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Five-year-old Adam Gilmore of Dayton had his heart set on a box constrictor for Christmas. And he got it.

He learned about snakes from a picture book. When he saw the box in a pet shop, it became his heart's desire. Christmas morning, one of the boxes under the Gilmore's Christmas tree contained Adam's box.

The snake joins other pets at the Gilmore home including a hamster, a turtle and the more conventional dog and three cats.

Dead Letters to Santa Claus

NEW YORK (AP)—The Post Office here estimates its dead letter department received about 2,500 letters this year addressed to Santa Claus, North Pole, U.S.A. In past years 3,000 to 4,000 letters were routed to the office here from around New York State and abroad.

Letters ranged from petitions for toys to promises of good behavior.

One girl wrote: "I have not been a good girl as your already knew. But I will not be to bad anymore. I hope you will come to my house next year. And I will not fight with Bignouth Rosmarie to much. O.K.?"

Crime, Health Bills Signed by Johnson

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson signed crime control and health bills he hopes will bring the nation's capital closer to becoming a model city and moved ahead today with 1969 budget conferences.

He acted just before a midnight Wednesday deadline to approve a controversial bill that will give District of Columbia police more power to fight crime in Washington.

The chief executive coupled the signing with a statement from his Texas White House calling on Congress to look to the problem of crime in all cities.

"No more serious problem faces America than the growing menace of crime in our streets," the President said, noting that "public order is the structure on which any society grows and prospers."

Johnson said he hopes Congress on its return Jan. 17 will give "the most urgent attention" to his proposed safe streets and crime control act "to help local communities meet their local responsibilities in fighting the causes of crime," and he also plumped for passage of "strict gun control legislation to keep firearms out of the wrong hands."

The most disputed provision of the District of Columbia Crime bill is one which permits police to question suspects for up to three hours before deciding whether to charge them with a crime.

Johnson expressed some misgivings about the crime bill and said "the effectiveness of this provision will depend on the quality of its administration and the spirit of fairness with which it is carried out."

"In our system of government," he added, "statements taken from an accused can never substitute for careful and painstaking work by law officers."

With "special pride," the President also put his signature to a measure extending medicare and Medicaid benefits to 180,000 poor and elderly citizens

The Uniques, one of the most popular singing groups in the nation who just released a new album last week, will play in Hope on Dec. 29 in the Nat'l Guard Armory. The dance which is open to the public will be sponsored by the Hope High Key Club and the admission will be $2 per person.

of the District of Columbia. Heretofore, the nation's capital was not included under these Social Security health programs.

Johnson was taking on a pile-up of pending bills with slow precision—his tally now five out of more than 40 measures awaiting the Presidential signature.

Johnson has been occupied mainly with fiscal problems since his arrival two days ago at his hill country Texas ranch 75 miles from here.

Budget Bureau Director Charles L. Schultze spent Wednesday afternoon with Johnson in the ranch office going over budget proposals for the Agriculture, Housing and Urban Development departments, the Atomic Energy Commission and a number of other undisclosed agencies.

Schultze flew in from Washington with Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Undersecretary of HUD Robert C. Wood, Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg and presidential assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr.

The Texas White House said none of these Washington advisers remained overnight at the ranch and no final decisions were made of any of the budgets discussed.

Myre administrative and economic advisers were expected at the ranch in the days ahead as Johnson continues his year-end assessment of the state of the union and plots the course for the fiscal year which starts next July 1.

Soviet Writer Complains of Secret Police

By ANTHONY C. COLLINGS

Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — The grandson of a former Soviet foreign minister has complained that the secret police called him in and warned him not to send to the West a transcript of a closed Moscow literary trial, it was learned today.

Informed sources said Pavel M. Litvinov, a 30-year-old physics lecturer, made the complaint about the secret police (KGB) in a letter circulated privately here and sent to Soviet and foreign Communist newspapers.

Despite his reported KGB threat, Litvinov went ahead and sent trial excerpts to four Soviet papers and Communist papers in France and Italy, according to a New York Times report.

The manuscripts were reported to include the final plea of Soviet writer Vladimir I. Bukovsky, 26, who was sentenced to three years in prison Sept. 1 for leading a Moscow demonstration for free speech. Two other defendants got one-year suspended sentences.

Litvinov, grandson of the late Maxim M. Litvinov, who served as Stalin's foreign minister from 1930 to 1933, indicated in the letter that a KGB official failed to convince him that sending information on the Bukovsky trial would violate any Soviet law.

Litvinov's letter complaining of KGB threats has not been published here.

Tannah Hirsch, the associate editor of the American Contract Bridge League Bulletin, plays a lot more bridge than most members of the league staff.

One reason is that Tannah, who played top flight bridge in Europe for many years, wants to become a Life Master in this country.

He writes very scientifically for the bulletin. His own bidding is of the simple style as may be seen from his six no-trump call with this hand from a recent tournament. A scientist's scientist would have taken up to a dozen bids to get to the eventual slam and if that slam happened to be in clubs, the scientist would have had no play to make his contract against a heart lead.

A spade was opened against the six no-trump contract. Tannah looked over dummy's hand and called for the deuce of clubs discard. Then he led a club to dummy's ace. East showed out and Tannah went broke. When that suit broke all Tannah had to do was to lead a heart toward his king in order to make his no-trump slam.

"Lucky discard," said North.

"Not at all," replied Tannah. "It was the correct play. I could not make more than six no-trump unless I could run both minor suits. Clubs figured to break but I didn't really need six club tricks. Five clubs plus three spades plus three diamonds would represent 11 tricks and East was marked with the ace of hearts for his spade overcall. It neither suit broke I wasn't going to make my slam, anyway. If clubs broke I could spare a club but if diamonds broke and clubs did not, I couldn't spare one of dummy's diamonds."

Fine analysis and a most unusual hand. We wonder if many players would have made that winning play at trick one.

DISCOVERER of the new manuscripts, totaling about 700 pages, was Prof. Jules Piccus of the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, shown studying the drawings above right. The manuscripts were found catalogued, but unidentified, in the National Library of Madrid, Spain. They had been missing in the library since before 1800, having been placed there originally in about 1600. Two samples of the drawings include bolting machine, right, and drawings of the famed Sforza horse.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Operations on the Aged Use Improved Techniques

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

As a result of the ever increasing advances in medical science there is an ever greater number of persons who are surviving past age 65. Such persons often need surgical operations. Whereas, in the past, operation on elderly persons was limited to life-saving emergencies, they are now undertaken for all types of surgical conditions with confidence in their success. This change in attitude has been brought about by better knowledge of the normal physiology of the aged, better surgical technique and modern drugs.

Two or three centuries ago, it was common to observe senility in persons who were in their early 40s. In any era some persons reach senility at a much earlier age than others. This is because it is the diseases one encounters, not the number of one's years, that gives one the appearance of being old.

When an elderly person needs an operation, therefore, the surgeon's first duty is to determine how well his body is functioning. This is especially important as regards his heart and blood vessels. Clues will be furnished by the electrocardiogram, blood pressure and pulse rate. A chest X-ray, measurement of lung capacity, electroencephalogram and tests of liver and kidney function are also important.

When these tests indicate that the operation can be safely undertaken, the question of an anesthetic arises. Here again, great advances have been made in recent years. Respiratory complications have been avoided by giving the anesthetic through a tube introduced into the windpipe and by greater use of local or spinal anesthesia. Lowering the patient's body temperature also has certain advantages.

Whenever possible, it is a great boon to an elderly patient if the operation can be performed in his home.

As a rule, however, your partner was willing to have you but three diamonds with some very poor diamonds holding. You actually have a reasonably good six card suit and you dreamed anything in high cards when you passed one spade.

Tight Credit Seen as Call for Tax Hike

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some business leaders view the Federal Reserve Board's moderate move toward tightening credit as not-too-subtle pressure on the administration and Congress to raise taxes and cut spending.

The board announced Wednesday its unanimous decision to raise reserves on checking accounts—meaning banks must keep more money on hand at all times and thus cut back on lending. The action, said the board, was taken to stem inflation at home and strengthen the dollar abroad.

"It shows that Martin is trying to get his message across to the President," said one Midwestern banker of the surprise action.

The banker, who asked that his name not be used, referred to Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Reserve Board, who has urged spending cuts greater than those recommended by Johnson while backing the President's proposal to hike taxes.

A similar assessment was given by Ward C. Krebs, chairman of the credit policy committee of Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco.

"Since there has been no fiscal support in combating inflation by this administration and Congress, it is necessary for the Federal Reserve to go it alone," said Krebs.

That view was oft-repeated by other bankers contacted by The Associated Press in the wake of the board's announcement.

All seven board members have publicly endorsed Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge, which the House Ways and Means Committee plans to consider for a second time Jan. 22.

Wednesday's announcement was the first by the board of a switch from its policy of easier money which has marked 1967. There have been hints of a tightening, however, in recent banking statistics.

What the board did was to require banks with demand deposits — usually checking accounts — exceeding $5 million to place 17 per cent of them in reserve if they are large city banks and 12.5 per cent if they are small banks.

Each Passing Year Gives Us Something, Takes Something Too

By HAL ROYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The aging of the year — good old 1967 — makes everyone feel older too. It's that way every year. Each passing year gives something to us, and it takes something from us, in time the parade of the years squeezes us dry, and we all blow away.

It is easy to tell how old a year is by simply glancing at a calendar. How can a human being tell when he is old? That isn't quite so easy, but it can be done.

Age in people is determined by a number of things: the chief indicators being physical condition, conduct, and mental attitudes.

Here's a guide to test yourself. You are probably old if most of the following things are true of you:

You are short of breath climbing a hill, but long-winded in any social situation.

Rather than go to a doctor, you prefer to doctor yourself by selecting your own pills and potions at the drug store. You secretly take medicine the rest of the family doesn't know about.

You think your great-grandchildren are even cuter than your grandchildren but feel too nervous to babysit with them.

Uncle Sam sends you more money than you send him.

Your children get very possessive about you. They now feel it is their duty to give you more good advice than they were ever willing to accept from you in earlier years.

When you are unwilling to do what someone else wants, he gets even by saying, "You're getting too stubborn and set in your ways."

Food Stamps Helping 2.6 Million Buy $1 Million in Food Daily

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Orange and blue bills that look like play money are helping 2.6 million needy Americans buy nearly $1 million worth of food every day.

Known as food stamps, by June 30 they'll be circulating in 1,200 areas of 43 states and Washington, D.C., including 8 of the nation's 10 most populous cities.

Backers of the stamp program call it the most promising approach yet to the goal of putting better food on the poor man's table without making it a handout.

Nobody gets food stamps for free. The poor pay for them, swapping cash for stamps worth many dollars more.

Some find it a little cold-blooded that the government extracts money from those it professes to help.

But Congress shows its approval by giving the Agriculture Department a bigger budget for stamps every year—$185 million for the current fiscal year, up from $116.3 million last year.

"We've got to get away from this idea of giving the poor everything we think they need," said Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., the stamp program's best friend on Capitol Hill.

"In this program the people are taught how to spend their money," she said. "As little as it is, they learn to budget it."

Mrs. Sullivan and others badgered the Eisenhower administration for a stamp program through much of the 1950s. It had too much of a welfare state aroma about it to suit Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson.

Exit Eisenhower in 1961, and with him Benson. Enter President John F. Kennedy, determined to have stamps.

Kennedy's first executive order was to establish a pilot program in a handful of cities. Congress put it on a formal continuing basis in 1964.

A shopper armed with books of stamps, signed on the back so no one else can use them, can buy just about anything on the grocer's shelves so long as it's food and—with the exception of coffee, tea, cocoa and bananas — American-grown.

Purchase of tobacco and alcoholic beverages is forbidden.

But no one at Agriculture kids himself that there's 100 per cent compliance on this. Especially in the little one-man neighborhood groceries where the customer and the man behind the counter are friends from way back.

Predicts Prosperity to Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commerce Secretary Alexander B. Trowbridge predicted today a "new wave of prosperity" during 1968 with significant gains in employment, income, profits and purchasing power.

But he said his forecast depends on congressional enactment of President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge, a measure Trowbridge said would keep the economy on an even keel "so that we can continue to grow."

He also urged both labor and management to show restraint in seeking higher wages and prices.

"Inflation breeds more inflation," he said. "If there are excessive wage and price increases in 1968, the chances are much greater for more wage and price pressures in 1969."

"The longer an atmosphere of fast-rising wages and prices persists, the tougher the measures that will be needed to keep them in check," he added. "And I want to assure you that the last thing we in government want is wage and price controls."

He made the remarks in a talk prepared for a meeting of the American Marketing Association.

"Inflation breeds more inflation," he said. "If there are excessive wage and price increases in 1968, the chances are much greater for more wage and price pressures in 1969."

Red Activity in Laos Not Unusual

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) —

Reliable military and diplomatic sources said today that North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao forces are more active than usual in Laos but no large-scale Communist invasion of the country is taking place.

The sources, both American and Laotian, said the Communists have staged unusually large scale raids for rice on the agricultural communities of Nam Bac, near the royal capital of Luang Prabang, and Phalane, near Savannakhet in the south.

Military sources said both areas are still in government hands.

Sources in Vientiane, endeavoring to explain reports of a Communist invasion, said the Laotian government frequently claimed the situation is "tense" in order to protest the presence of North Vietnamese troops in the country.

American intelligence sources estimate there are 40,000 North Vietnamese combat and support troops in Laos in the areas controlled by the Viet Cong.

In Washington, the Pentagon and the U.S. State Department at first took a similar attitude toward reports of new Communist military activity in Laos.

But after reports from Saigon and Bangkok of large-scale North Vietnamese inroads into the kingdom, State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said Communist attacks in Laos are of serious concern to the United States "and we are watching the situation closely."

Daley's impassioned speech Wednesday came in a City Council meeting.

While Daley mentioned no one by name in connection with demonstrations, it was obvious he was referring to remarks by Dick Gregory, night club performer and participant in Negro demonstrations.

Gregory, in a Tuesday news conference, described the choice of Chicago for next year's Democratic National Convention as an insult to Negroes. He said he will try to block it with massive demonstrations.

Daley expressed regret over the shooting of Ald. Leon M. Despres by two would-be robbers Tuesday night. Despres was wounded twice in the right leg.

"There is no excuse for violence anywhere," Daley said, his voice rising and his face flushed with anger. "We live in a great city, but if it is necessary to put on 5,000 more policemen, I'll ask for your authority."

Then, turning to the threat of summer demonstrations, he said: "No one is going to take over this city in July or any other month. They aren't going to take over any convention or any street or any city — no matter how many or where they come from."

His speech finished, Daley drew a standing ovation from council members.

A total of 26 Arkansas counties will be added to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food Stamps Program during the first half of 1968. . . . this will make a family food program available in every county in the state. . . . included in the 26 counties are Hempstead, Lafayette, Miller and Little River in this area.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Hijackers escaped with $301,000 in an armored truck Wednesday by driving it out of a parking lot crowded with people while the two guards were in a department store.

The truck was within 30 minutes abandoned about 1 1/2 miles away from the shopping area, in nearby Boardman, with $32,000 still inside.

Community Relations Programs Fail, Police of Miami to Get Tough

By FRANK MURRAY
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The police chief who is using police dogs and shotguns in the city's Negro areas says community relations programs fail because they are "interpreted by some citizens as a form of appeasement."

"The crimes have not reduced," said Chief Walter Headley in explaining Wednesday why he reached his decision.

Headley said in an interview crime was on the upswing, showing statistics for November listing 240 robberies compared to 97 in the same month a year ago. Fifty-eight robberies and three murders were counted over Christmas weekend with whites involved as perpetrators in only three, Headley said.

"We have accepted the fact that community relations programs are not affecting criminal activity of the hard core criminal element," he said, adding that he was confident the show of force by shotgun-carrying patrolmen in Negro areas will not damage over-all human relations efforts.

The chairman of the hotel community relations group, Harry P. Cain, former U.S. senator from the state of Washington said, "The community relations board is not in the crime prevention business. I can only say our basic function is to do the best we can to reduce tensions in the area of race relations in the community, something far different than crime prevention."

Dade County Sheriff E. Wilson Purdy, who said recently his men had gained the confidence of Negro leaders and eased race tension, has a continuing program of community relations with Negroes within his department.

His 1,000 deputies are drilled in such techniques as "avoiding trigger words that speak of racial or national prejudice," Purdy explained. He has said they are courteous to the point that whites sometimes complain Negroes receive favored treatment.

Headley said he will not stand in the way of other community relations programs. "We intend to continue our get-tough policy to cut down on crime while hoping the community relations programs may help with long range solutions."

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley, reacting angrily to the shooting of an alderman and a threat of Negro demonstrations next summer, said, "No one is going to take over this city in July or any other month."

Daley's impassioned speech Wednesday came in a City Council meeting.

While Daley mentioned no one by name in connection with demonstrations, it was obvious he was referring to remarks by Dick Gregory, night club performer and participant in Negro demonstrations.

Gregory, in a Tuesday news conference, described the choice of Chicago for next year's Democratic National Convention as an insult to Negroes. He said he will try to block it with massive demonstrations.

Daley expressed regret over the shooting of Ald. Leon M. Despres by two would-be robbers Tuesday night. Despres was wounded twice in the right leg.

"There is no excuse for violence anywhere," Daley said, his voice rising and his face flushed with anger. "We live in a great city, but if it is necessary to put on 5,000 more policemen, I'll ask for your authority."

Then, turning to the threat of summer demonstrations, he said: "No one is going to take over this city in July or any other month. They aren't going to take over any convention or any street or any city — no matter how many or where they come from."

His speech finished, Daley drew a standing ovation from council members.

288 Enemy Killed Since Yule Truce

By G. GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines battled a powerful Communist force today 20 miles south of Da Nang. A helicopter airlift landed a detachment of the 5th Marine Regiment in a muddy rice paddy that later seemed ringed by a battalion of the enemy—perhaps 500 men.

AP correspondent Kim Ki Sam reported in a dispatch from the area that virtually every helicopter landing the Leathernecks and removing the wounded drew sniper and machine gun fire.

"Heavy enemy machine gun and mortar fire spewed from a fortified hamlet about 400 yards from the landing zone. Marine jets and helicopter gunships worked over the Communist positions there and in tree lines around the paddy, their bombs and rockets landing so close that in some cases splinters whizzed over the Marines."

Other action in three battles in South Vietnam's coastal provinces had raised the Communist toll to 288 dead since the Christmas truce.

American paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade launched the third assault Wednesday as helicopters landed them in a jungle area 250 miles north of Saigon where a Communist force of battalion size was reported.

The paratroops almost immediately flushed a force of about 300 Viet Cong and held them at bay for nine hours while artillery roared in and 31 jetplanes in succession pounded them.

The battered Communist force pulled back along bloody trails by nightfall, and 31 enemy bodies were found along with 18 abandoned submachine guns. Twelve paratroopers were killed and 34 wounded, the U.S. Command said.

The battle took place about 25 miles into the jungled foothills west of the coastal city of Tuy Hoa.

Simultaneously, South Vietnamese troops were engaged about 100 miles up the coast in the lowlands of Quang Ngai Province. A government battalion of regulars and militiamen ran into a Communist outfit of unknown size, drew back and called in 105mm howitzers. A government spokesman said 40 of the enemy were killed, almost all by the artillery, while government losses were light.

Sporadic fighting also continued along the coast just below the demilitarized zone here the Viet Cong 416th battalion was out to pieces in a battle Tuesday. South Vietnamese forces reported catching a few more enemy soldiers during mopping up operations, bringing the claimed Red loss in that battle to 217 dead.

All the heavy fighting since the truce Monday has taken place along the central and northern coast where American and South Vietnamese sweeps were launched to counter unending Red buildup efforts.

However, American officers continue to believe new fighting is building up along the Cambodian border.

Prison Board Names Murton Acting Supt.

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — The State Penitentiary Board voted unanimously today to make Thomas Murton acting superintendent of the state prison system.

Murton will replace O.E. Bishop, who is resigning Dec. 31 after holding the job for two years.

The board said, however, that it would resolve the matter of a permanent replacement Jan. 4 when it meets at Little Rock.

Board member Grady Woolley of El Dorado indicated that if the matter were not resolved at that time he would possibly resign from the board.

Another member, John Haley of Little Rock, said that Murton would remain acting superintendent until a permanent replacement is named.

Officials Are Battling Dollar Drain

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is drafting a package of measures wrapped around a new and urgent appeal for higher taxes in an attempt to solve one of its most perplexing problems—the continuing drain of dollars to other countries.

Details of the package, now a closely guarded secret, are expected to be spelled out in the messages President Johnson will begin sending Congress next month.

The first hints could come in his State of the Union message soon after Congress reconvenes Jan. 15.

Officials of the Treasury and Commerce departments have been meeting with White House aides to hammer together a program for next year expected to emphasize increased export sales and higher taxes to maintain economic stability.

A tax increase tends to keep exports competitive and to stifle any tendency to increase imports.

New impetus was placed behind the proposed 10 per cent tax surcharge Wednesday when the Federal Reserve Board announced a move toward tighter money, shifting from the easier money policy which marked 1967.

Because a tax increase is involved, the burden of the new balance of payments program will fall on big business and the ordinary citizen alike.

The recent bold-buying spree in Europe heightened efforts to draft an effective plan to stem the flow of dollars overseas.

The continuing dollar drain, which began in 1949, has cut the U.S. gold supply in half. Other countries are able to buy gold because Americans spend more in those countries than foreigners spend here.

It's U.S. policy to buy back these dollars for gold when foreign central banks demand it.

The strength of the dollar itself is at stake in the new program because of this.

Until now at least the government has avoided any mandatory controls over the flow of dollars abroad. There has been talk in nongovernment circles of imposing controls on overseas investments but many administration officials are committed to a voluntary program and can be expected to fight such a move.

One of the early programs to stem the dollar tide fell on the American tourist, whose duty-free allowance on souvenirs he bought abroad was cut in 1965 from $100 at wholesale to $100 at retail, a cut of about $55.

It is still in effect but the new effort in travel will be to bring more foreign tourists here to offset American spending abroad rather than to restrict the movement of Americans.

Government officials have repeatedly ruled out a head tax on departing Americans, partly because two-thirds of them go to Canada and Mexico.

Restrictions on trade and travel could also result in retaliation by other countries, a move the administration wants to avoid. This leaves investment as the only major area for possible control.

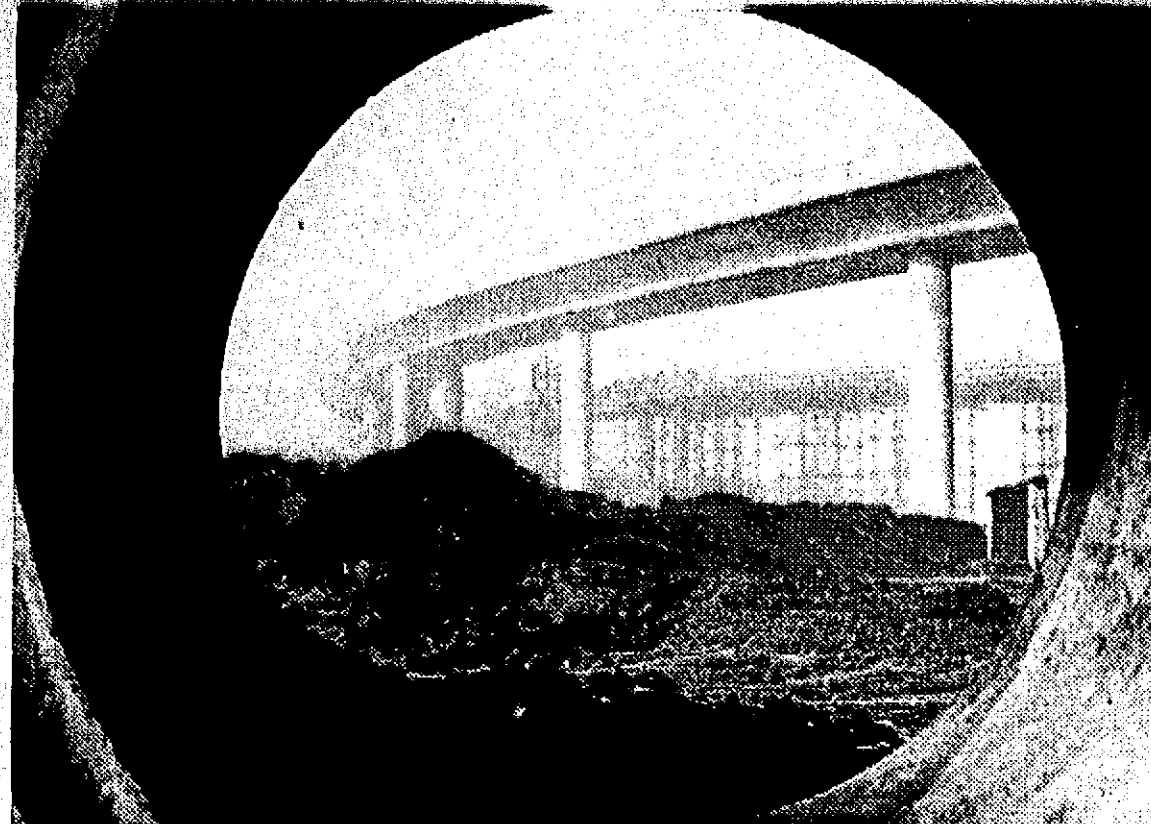

The Vietnam war and direct overseas investment each drain more than $2 billion annually from the country while the travel gap this year is expected to hit a record $2 billion.

Fatter U.S. exports could help offset some of this. Fowler has spoken of "selective pressures to encourage American industry to cultivate foreign markets more aggressively" but has refused thus far to spell out details.

Christmas Sales Hit a Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Turtle-neck sweaters for men, swords and musical whisky bottles were an instant hit in the shopping avalanche that swept the nation's stores this Christmas season, boosting sales on the whole to record levels.

Both suburban shopping centers and large downtown department stores across the nation generally reported record or near record sales, although there were some soft spots where sales did not meet expectations, an Associated Press spot survey found Wednesday.

"We were not disappointed, but we were not elated," said Walter Berquist, president of Bullocks Department Stores in Los Angeles, in a middle-of-the-road report. "It was not a sensational Christmas season."

However, Maurice Cohen, president of Lechmere Sales, a Boston discount chain, called it, "The best year yet. The past week it exploded with people buying beyond our expectations."

In New York City sales were reported 3 to 6 per cent above last year's totals.

And a spokesman for Burdine's Department Stores of Miami, Fla., said, "We anticipated a big Christmas and are realizing it. The general economy is pretty good and sales are following along."

Richard H. Rich, board chairman of Rich's, Inc., of Atlanta, said some had felt it would be hard to equal the records racked up in Christmas of 1966.

But, Rich said, sales this December are running 5 to 6 per cent ahead of 1966 with branch stores doing slightly better than those located downtown.

Improved sales also were reported by stores in Phoenix, Ariz., Cleveland, Ohio, Kansas City, Little Rock, Ark., and Pittsburgh.

Zale Corp., a Dallas retail jewelry chain, reported its sales for the week prior to Christmas were a record $22 million, compared to $17,900,000 a year earlier.

Some Chicago and Omaha stores reported sales were not what they had expected.

J. Carl Campbell, general merchandising manager of Chicago's Carson Pirie Scott & Co., said, "Business is better than last year, but we're not up to planned growth."

John Diesing, vice president of Brandies, Omaha's largest department store, said sales increased at his firm's outlying shopping center outlets but decreased at his downtown store.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hicks and Mrs. Earnestine Davis, and other relatives.

Messrs. Davis and Langston have returned to their home in Flint, Michigan; Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Langston and the children remained for a few days longer.

Mrs. Thurla Wallace of San Francisco, California spent the Christmas holidays with her mother, Mrs. Joella Evans and Mr. Evans.

Don Alvin Lawson has returned to his home in Clarksville, Texas after spending the Christmas holidays with his aunt, Mrs. Richard Wilson and family, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dennis and family had as holiday guests their children, Sgt. and Mrs. John L. Dennis and daughter of San Antonio, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dennis and children of Wichita, Kansas.

They all have returned to their homes.

Link Between Well, Quakes Under Study

By LOUDON KELLY
Associated Press Writer
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Renewed interest is being focused on a deep well drilled at the Rocky Mountain Arsenal and any possible connection with a five-year series of earthquakes in the Denver area.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has announced a study is being made to determine if waste fluids standing in the deep—and now unused—well should be pumped out.

Denver had its heaviest earthquake last August, registering 5.5 on one Richter Scale and causing considerable property damage. Another jolt last month was nearly as severe. No injuries have resulted.

A Denver geologist, David M. Evans, has contended for more than two years that pumping of waste fluids into the 12,000-foot well at the arsenal northeast of Denver triggered the earth shocks. Before that, quakes had been unknown in Colorado. Some scientists agree with Evans, but others are skeptical. But this much is known: The well was completed in March, 1962 and wastes from the manufacture of chemical weapons at the arsenal were pumped under high pressure into the well for disposal underground. Just a little more than one month later, the first quake ever measured on instruments in Denver occurred.

Since that April day more than 1,500 tremors have been recorded here, although most of these went unnoticed by the average citizen.

Evans, who is director of the Potential Gas Agency for the Mineral Resources Institute at the Colorado School of Mines, said the well was drilled into a stratum of extremely hard granitic rock.

"As fluids were flushed down the well from the arsenal pressure built up in the rocks below," he said. "The forced-in liquids lubricated the rocks and caused them to shift and slide. As a result, we have earthquakes."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Battel

NEW MEANING FOR OLD PHRASE.

Dear Helen: I have been going with a boy for two years. Everything was okay until he popped the question. I told him I didn't believe a girl should until she was married. Did I say the right thing?—T.D.

Dear T: Yes, you said the right thing.

In my day "pop the question" meant nothing but "Let's get married." My, how times change!—H.

Dear Helen: I am in college, a male, intelligent, from a good family and not bad looking. I realize that with some effort I could take advantage of the fairer sex, as many of my classmates brag they do. However, I never get farther than casual dates.

Should I remain apathetic about the problem, or make an effort to experiment?—CONFUSED

Dear Con: Stop worrying and keep in mind the fellow's who brag loudest have least to brag about. A recent four-year study at Stanford University indicates you have lots of company. Researchers found that about one-third of the men and a quarter of the women date little or not at all, even in their senior year. They also discovered, through in-depth interviews with 3,000 students over a four-year period, that sexual promiscuity in college is not widespread. "Intimacy, when it occurs," they report, "takes place in the context of a relationship that is serious rather than casual."

You aren't apathetic...just selective—and too busy for meaningless experiments.—H.

Dear Helen: You said that among unmarried women, men should always take precedence. I disagree. You see, Helen, we are three girls living in an apartment together and working in the same office. Only one of us has a boyfriend.

This creates a serious problem because he feels he has the authority to come here and tell all of us how to run our lives. Two of us criticize him to the third—his girlfriend. We also point out his good qualities, which are few.

His girlfriend agrees with our criticisms, but she still dates him constantly. She won't go out with us because she feels she must stay home and await his call or an unexpected visit. We think she is throwing herself away on him.

We pay a nice sum of money for our privacy and we feel this so-called man is running it, what with late calls and drop-ins. Don't you agree this girl is behaving in a childish manner?

MORE MATURE.

Dear M.M.: This girl is behaving like someone in love. Perhaps you should start looking for another roomy.—H.

Dear Helen: I hope you'll print this because it pertains to all boy-crazy girls. I THOUGHT this boy liked me, so I would go out of my way to see him; I even called him up once in a while.

Well, he shied away and now we're "just friends."

I would like to say this: 1. Don't assume. Just because a boy starts talking to you doesn't mean he's yours. 2. Don't be possessive. Act normal and let him do the chasing.—LEARNED TOO LATE

FCC Official Denies Charge by McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert H. Hyde, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, denied today Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's charge that the FCC had "deliberately" handled his case in a biased manner.

Hyde said the FCC had yet to act on McCarthy's request, but would do so soon.

McCarthy, Democrat from Minnesota, said he will challenge Johnson in several 1968 presidential primaries, and the only network to broadcast from the FCC is a network of repeaters of the network's public relations office. McCarthy said the FCC had "deliberately" handled his case in a biased manner.

Hyde said the FCC had yet to act on McCarthy's request, but would do so soon.

We care

Every year, we make the same resolutions!

Because every year, no matter how well we did the year before, our objectives are essentially the same.

To make A&P a friendly courteous store for you.

To be fair and honest in our pricing and labeling.

To sell only quality products we can fully guarantee.

To do everything possible to bring you the most good food for the least amount of money.

To prove we care about you.

We think we did pretty well in '67.

We'll be trying even harder in '68.

Here's a prediction:

When '68 comes to a close, we still won't be satisfied and we'll try harder in '69 and '79 and '89 and 1999.

We don't think we can ever be good enough for you.
